WINE ROOM

CLASSIC CATERING & SUPERB SPACES

Although not quite up to the halcyon heights of the last one, it has been quite a decent summer so far, an ideal time to get out with the family and enjoy a barbeque or two. A month or so more of this fine weather to go, I'm hoping, so bring it on!

Our March wineletter is packed with loads of interesting stuff. Our featured Titanic Trio – Marlborough's Isabel Vineyard, Jackson Estate and Lake Chalice – can all point to longstanding reputations for pioneering excellence within our primary wine producing region.

Just in time for St Patrick's Day we usher in a brand-new Irish cider and an Irish whisky. It's also time for the always-anticipated Penfolds Bin release, and they have, this year, something new to talk about. You'll find inside, too, Waipara Hills' latest Equinox releases, plus our splendid collection from Burgundy; and by the way, I recently purchased a very special barrel of Tennessee whiskey while in the States!

And so we arrive at an introduction to our function spaces and catering services: The Dida's Jervois Rd team have ramped up the catering recently, and for those in the know, we have a fantastic catering menu that includes everything from cheese platters to antipasto selections to crafted canapés, all available for your next dinner party at home, in the office, on the boat or wherever. The Dida's team also provide the catering for a selection of function spaces at Glengarry Victoria Park; whether your event is for 10 or for 200, we have a space to suit. Check out our website and the video on it for more details.

COOPERS CREEK

MARLBOROUGH RIESLING 2009 11530

$14.99 CASE OF 12 $13.99 A BOTTLE

Double gold medal winner

Talented winemaker Simon Nunns has a well-honed sense of humour. Nothing funny here though – this is seriously superb. No surprise, really, that it took gold at the Air New Zealand Wine Awards. Everything you'd look for in a Riesling: green apple, Myer lemon, a hint of white flowers, all dusted with a delicate chalky nuance. The palate flows beautifully, with just the right amount of acidity to hold the succulent fruit together. Coopers Creek always did (and still do) have the know-how to produce a classically elegant Riesling with the ability to age gracefully.

Super rosé to see out summer

Australian winemaker Tim Adams created the Mr Mick range in tribute to his vinous mentor and Clare Valley pioneer, K. H. 'Mr Mick' Knappstein. The wines are fruit-forward and friendly, and this smart little rosé is no exception, popping with raspberry and strawberry notes overlaid with hints of lychee and white peach. Stick a bottle on the table outside when you're going Asian.

When you can get a wine like this, hand-picked, whole bunch pressed and with a barrel maturation component, all for less than a round at the Viaduct, you have to love the whole second-tier concept, dontcha? Slightly floral, ripe and rich with a creamy butteriness normally reserved for those with 'reserve' on the label, this is a superb introduction to the genius that is Craggy Range.

PENFOLDS

March heralds the release of Penfolds' iconic Bin range. This year they also celebrate 170 years since Dr Christopher Rawson Penfold planted the first vines at Magill. Today, Penfolds are lauded the world over for the quality and consistency of their wines. Former Chief Winemaker Max Schubert pioneered the innovative concept of multi-regional blending to create the legendary Grange, arguably Australia's greatest red. This process gave birth to the Bin Series; a multi-regional and skilfully blended range using the best fruit from the finest vineyards to maintain a consistent, high-quality 'house style' for each category. The Penfolds Bin portfolio includes some of Australia's most celebrated and highly sought-after wines.

SPARKLING

CLOUDY BAY

SPARKLING MARLBOROUGH PRODUCERS

It doesn't get much more Marlborough than Cloudy Bay; with their wines adored the world over, these guys are still running hot, and they carve out a path of excellence that continues to set the benchmark. Cloudy's sparkling tiara is the mighty Pelorus, which throws down its own gauntlet for quality and consistency. The rosé is a welcome addition, and the 2009 vintage lives up to expectations.

isabel VINEYARD

One of Marlborough's largest family-owned wineries, the Isabel Vineyard was established by Michael and Robyn Tiller in 1982. The Tillers initially operated as contract growers supplying the likes of Cloudy Bay, but their inevitable progression into winemaking met with sensational results, their very first release, a Pinot Noir, taking out a gold medal.

Today, Isabel is very much a family affair, with Michael and Robyn's four children and son-in-law, winemaker Carlos Orgiles Ortega, all actively involved. With the vineyards managed on sustainable and organic principles, the Isabel wines are 100% estate grown and made with fastidious attention to detail, right down to the inhouse bottling.

The same philosophy is applied to their second-tier wines, which reside under the Dr Renwick label and are produced off younger vines. The winery's entire range is crafted with extreme care, with all the wines tipping their hats in a terroir salute to their Marlborough origins.

HOMESTEAD VINEYARD

JACKSON ESTATE

For more than three decades, the pioneering Jackson Estate has been recognised as one of Marlborough's premium producers of both quality fruit and exceptional fine wines. The enterprise is a testament to the vision and determination of the Stichbury and Jackson families who have farmed the land in the Wairau River plains at Jacksons Road for more than 160 years. The giant gum tree, Grey Ghost, that graces the Jackson Estate labels was planted in 1867 by John Jackson's great-grandmother, Alice.

The vineyards are meticulously managed via a sustainable, low-cropping regime to provide both optimum fruit and varietal integrity, augmented at the other end of the business by the installation in 2003 of a new high-tech winery that ensures control over all aspects of the winemaking process. Head Winemaker Matt Patterson-Green has guided the winemaking team for almost a decade now. He explains: 'Our philosophy is to produce wines that truly reflect the variety and the land that gave them birth.'

LAKE Chalice

What can we say about Chris Gambitsis? One of NZ wine's true characters, Gambo looms larger than life, and we reckon his favourite interests outside of wine are Music, Motorbikes and Talking, and not necessarily in that order. This gregarious former restaurateur and his ex-police detective windsurfing mate Phil Binnie have come a long way. Gambo: 'Phil and I enjoyed drinking and exploring wine styles, but what we really wanted to do was make wine, so we decided to buy a vineyard.'

Aided by the talented Matt Thomson, Gambo and Phil went and transformed their initial 11.5 hectare investment, the Falcon Vineyard, into a sprawling enterprise involving a number of vineyard sites and boasting a legion of fans the world over. Gambo: 'Our philosophy is to make the best possible wine, so our vineyards are sustainably managed and we adopt a minimalist winemaking approach to let the purity of the fruit shine through.'

98910 JACK DANIEL'S SINGLE BARREL TENNESSEE WHISKEY
SELECTED BY JAK JAKICEVICH 700ML $89.99

An enduring fan of Jack Daniel's, I have long harboured the desire to select my very own barrel of this iconic brand. Last year, this dream was realised when I travelled to Lynchberg, Tennessee to do just that. And that barrel – sourced from the very top racks where the whiskey barrels are subjected to greater extremes of temperature and accelerated ageing – has now been bottled and delivered.

Just one in every hundred barrels is selected for a customer to choose from. Some careful tasting eventually unveiled the barrel I knew was to be mine; I was after something big and bold enough to accompany a cigar, yet still displaying a lingering richness and subtlety of flavour. I found it in barrel #13-6464, the vanilla and caramel flavours building into a vibrant, complex, more sumptuous palate from additional time in the barrel, with a delightfully creamy mouthfeel enveloping the honeyed notes and long, sweet finish.

But hey, don't take my word for it! Try it for yourself: I invite you to come and enjoy the Jack Daniel's family of whiskeys with me and allow me to introduce you to my Single Barrel, #13-6464, distilled 8th April 2008 and bottled 5th November 2013.

STEPHEN PLOWMAN

INTRODUCING Keplers

You'll find the Keplers Cider Company in the historic township of Middleton (home to the largest pot-still in the world) in Ireland's County Cork. It's a relatively young wee thing, having emerged into the world as recently as 2009, but the quality of Keplers' output has established them as one of Ireland's premium cider producers. No apple juice concentrate here, folks, it's all locally sourced, freshly crushed apples, an approach that provides that extra kick to accompany the singular flavours.

JOHN KEPPLERS
PREMIUM IRISH CIDER 568ML

SINGLE $4.99 98520

A bright cider boasting a gentle effervescence and a fragrant bouquet of cinnamon-laced apple and smoky nuances. It's a clean and balanced expression, the crisp, spicy flavours brought home nicely by a refreshing aftertaste.

Hallertau

Stephen and Hayley Plowman named their brand in tribute to the Bavarian Hallertau region famed for its hops, but at that point, proudly bearing their Riverhead roots and a well-honed sense of humour, they veer off into exuberant Westie mode via their fearlessly unique, smartly-executed brews.

Staunch believers in purity of expression, the beer styles are about generous aromas, vibrant flavours and enriching characters, meticulously hand-brewed from the purest natural ingredients, with all of the Hallertau models lovingly championed regardless of their commercial viability.

Here, we feature the famed First Four (sounds presidential), which began life as humble numbers; but fear not, those of you who suck at maths, they've named them too. This quintessential quartet is best enjoyed well-chilled rather than icy-cold, so as to fully appreciate the depth of their flavours.

HALLERTAU 3
COPPER TART RED ALE 330ML

SINGLE $3.99 91782

Rich and smoothly dry, this substantial Irish ale flaunts (being tartish) its spicy hop aromas, gently massaged by malted notes of caramel and chocolate. The mouth loyally follows the nose, with the whole interaction enhanced by the companionship of a refined texture.

INTRODUCING Teeling

100% family owned and operated from Dublin by brothers Jack and Stephen Teeling, the Teeling Whiskey Co. are well-known for doing things a little differently, and their hand-crafted, small batch Irish whiskeys embody this entrepreneurial spirit, with no chill filtering or added colouring. Designed to be a bridge between standard blended whiskeys and the rarified world of single malts, the Teeling philosophy is to create premium quality blends with unique flavour profiles.

SANTA MARGHERITA

Taking Italian wine to the world

The Marzotto family, currently led by Count Paolo Marzotto, have long pursued a passion to create premium brands encompassing the worlds of textiles, fashion, decor and wine. Their Santa Margherita brand is best known as a pioneer of Italian Pinot Grigio, now the most imported wine in the US, with their own expression its biggest-seller in the American market.

Santa Margherita also specialize in Prosecco, Italy's light and aromatic, low-alcohol sparkling wine – often drunk as an aperitif – that has become increasingly popular globally in the last few decades. SM's Prosecco grapes are sourced from the famous winemaking area of Valdobbiadene, found just below the alpine areas of Veneto.

SANTA MARGHERITA VALDOBBIADENE PROSECCO DOCG NV

$22.99 62538

CASE OF 6 $21.99 A BOTTLE

Delicate aromas of spring flowers, peach and pear, with a crunch of zest and a tickle of froth that is utterly charming. A slight mineral undercurrent streaks the surging tide, and a flurry of mint-tinged fresh apple will seduce you into its orbit.

SANTA MARGHERITA VALDADIGE PINOT GRIGIO DOC 2012

$19.99 62556

CASE OF 12 $18.99 A BOTTLE

A crisp, dry white with Grigio's characteristic light hues, this is dazzlingly clean, with intense aromas of ripe apples. Very personable, very versatile; in accompaniment to a wide variety of foods or flying solo, it's a delight to imbibe.

VALDOBBIADENE

PASQUA BLACK LABEL VENETO PASSIMENTO IGT 2010

$19.99 66080

CASE OF 6 $18.99 A BOTTLE

Traditional Verona varieties are augmented by a dose of rich, plump Merlot, with the wine passed over the partially dried grapes to create a style similar to Amarone. Full bodied, with hints of spice, velvety tannins and a round, mellow finish.

PASQUA BLACK LABEL VALPOLICELLA RIPASSO DOC 2011

$22.99 66069

CASE OF 6 $21.99 A BOTTLE

A good value alternative to Amarone, created when the finished Valpolicella is passed over the dried, raisened skins from Amarone production, resulting in a rich, full-bodied wine with spiced-up prune flavours and earthy mineral notes.

PASQUA BLACK LABEL DELLA VALPOLICELLA AMARONE DOC 2010

$49.99 66090

CASE OF 6 $48.99 A BOTTLE

Dried on special racks for about nine months and matured in oak barriques for up to eighteen, this dark ruby Amarone unleashes intense cherry, plum and raisin characters amidst swirls of dark chocolate, liquorice and spice. The multi-layered palate has a juicy raisin core enhanced by hints of coffee and earthiness, dusty tannins and a nutty amaro finish. Power meets Mellow. Compelling.

CA' DEL BOSCO CUVÉE PRESTIGE BRUT NV

$59.99 62554

CASE OF 6 $58.99 A BOTTLE

Ca' del Bosco is a distinguished member of the Santa Margherita portfolio. If you were served this blind in a champagne tasting, you'd be hard-pressed to pick it out from the rest of the illustrious line-up. A carefully-judged blend of 75% Chardonnay, 15% Pinot Nero and 10% Pinot Bianco, Ca' del Bosco's prestige cuvée is reminiscent of a blanc de blancs champagne. The finish is dry, the wine incredibly smart.

CHÂTEAU ROUTAS

Provençal prowess

Château Routas is a spectacularly picturesque estate in the heart of Provence, lodged midway between the French Riviera and the foothills of the Alps. Overlooking miles of wooded hillsides and rivers, it is surrounded by tiny medieval villages hugging steep cliffs.

The soil can vary dramatically, resulting in small, randomly-shaped vineyards, some as red as crushed brick, others home to crumbling grey limestone mixed with bright red stones that bleach in the hot summer sun. At 1,300 feet above sea level, the elevation is among the appellation's highest, providing cool nights that slow the ripening of the grapes and contribute to the complexity of the wines.

Farmed sustainably, the estate has 135 of its 642 acres under vine. Routas has always had a strong reputation for its Provence rosé, now complemented by a range of excellent red and white wines.

PERELADA

Cava's High Priests

Castillo Perelada, one of the grandest landmarks of the Empordà region, has had an association with the production of wine for a very long time. The Perelada castle houses Spain's largest privately-held library, within which parchments detail winemaking practices that date back to the Middle Ages. Perelada's modern renaissance began in 1923, when Miguel Mateu purchased the property and revitalised its wine production. His legacy lives on today under the stewardship of grandson Javier Suqué.

This is one of Spain's most significant producers, the wines a scintillating blend of centuries' worth of knowledge and cutting-edge modernism. They have, indeed, almost become standard issue at royal and government functions, such is their consistent quality and the esteem in which they are held.
