NEW ARRIVALS

GLENGARRY

NEW ARRIVALS

MAY 2020

Throughout the last few weeks, we have landed several containers of our Glengarry Direct Imports. These are the wines that we have sourced, selected and imported directly, for you, our customers. There's such an exciting array of wines, including new vintages of wines that have been out of stock of late.

Whilst in different times we would have talked to you about these as they arrived, bit by bit, things are a little unusual right now. Thus, we thought it best to gather all the wines together, prepare this neat little offer, and get it out to you.

It's a wonderful collection of wines and spirits and presented like this gives you all the information in one place to peruse and make your selections. However, if you find yourself overwhelmed by the wonderful selection, or would just prefer that someone else made the decision for you, we have that sorted and have put together three mixed cases of New Releases that you'll find online here and detailed below.

Our team are all back on deck and here to help you with your selections and talk through the wines. Enjoy browsing this collection, you'll find them all together online and in our stores.

Bordeaux

Château d'Armailhac

This high quality, 69-hectare Fifth Growth estate in Pauillac was once part of the mighty Mouton Rothschild, and is indeed owned by Baroness Philippine de Rothschild. The name comes from one of its first owners, Dominique d'Armailhacq, and by 1740 the wine was being marketed as Mouton d'Armailhacq. Debt eventually buried the d'Armailhacq family, and with their château remaining unfinished, it was quite possibly the construction costs that put them out of business. Whatever the reason, they flicked it off to the Ferrand family, and in 1933, a young Baron Philippe de Rothschild snapped it up from the Ferrands on his way to glory. The gravel, clay and limestone soils of the property are today planted in 53% Cabernet Sauvignon, 34% Merlot, 11% Cabernet Franc and 2% Petit Verdot, with some of the oldest vines in the Médoc found here.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
40517	CHATEAU D'ARMAILHAC FIFTH GROWTH	2012	$188.00

91/100 | Robert Parker: "Part of the empire of the Chateau Mouton Rothschild, this estate was once known as Mouton Baronne Philippe. This impressive, deep, opaque ruby/purple wine, with loads of charcoal, crème de cassis and a flowery-ness, this is rich, medium to full-bodied, beautifully textured, quite pure, and avoids any of the astringency or hollowness that some Médocs possess in this vintage. The wine is complete and finishes authoritatively. The tannins are there, but ripe, integrated and velvety. This is a very impressive d'Armailhac to drink over the next 20-25 years." - Robert M. Parker Jr

Château Brane-Cantenac

Established in the eighteenth century by the Gorce family, the estate's current name comes from the subsequent owner, Baron Hector de Brane, aka the 'Napoléon of the Vines' (due in part, no doubt, to boldly naming the estate after himself), a man of formidable political connections who saw it ranked as one of the fifteen Deuxièmes Crus (Second Growths) in the 1855 Classification. He sold what is now Château Mouton-Rothschild to finance the purchase, and his devotion to the vineyard saw it become, for a while, the finest in Cantenac. Now owned by one of the most famous winemaking families in Bordeaux, the Lurtons, Brane-Cantenac is steadily rebounding from a more recent history of mediocrity, these days producing soft, fruity expressions that lend themselves to earlier drinking more readily than some. The vineyard is planted in 55% Cabernet Sauvignon, 40% Merlot and 4.5% Cabernet Franc, plus it is one of very few estates in Bordeaux to still include a tiny percentage of the historically significant varietal, Carménère.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
44652	CHATEAU BRANE CANTENAC BARON DE BRANE MARGAUX	2016	$106.00

"Still in barrel, this is tight and deeply coloured. It gives a real swirl of toffee and smoked almond on the nose and demonstrates depth on the palate, the coffee and cinnamon toast flavours run through with damson. It's a great quality second wine, but austere right now." 91 points, Decanter

Château Calon-Ségur

Situated in Saint-Estèphe, this estate stretches all the way back to 1147, when it was owned by Monseigneur de Calon, a bishop, no less. Perhaps not so surprising when one considers the level of intimacy that has long existed between the Church and the vine. Eventually the property came to be owned by Nicolas Alexandre, marquis de Segur and owner of Châteaux Latour and Lafite. The iconic heart on the label comes from his famous quote, 'I make my wine at Lafite and Latour, but my heart is in Calon.' One of the few walled-in vineyards to be found in Bordeaux, the estate was sold recently to a large French Insurance company, with the Moueix family, owners of Château Pétrus, also taking a stake. There has been extensive renovation of the winemaking facilities, along with a replanting programme to increase the vine density and boost the percentage of Cabernet Sauvignon. The style of Calon-Ségur is masculine and sturdy, the structure tannic, textural and traditional in approach. .

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
44296	CHATEAU CALON SEGUR THIRD GROWTH	2016	$380.00
	There is a wonderful pureness of fruit, blackcurrant and cassis, with a little creamy oak. The palate is full of energy, spice and vitality, with silky ripe tannins and then an almost menthol freshness at the end. It feels almost delicate and very elegant.
44297	CHATEAU CALON SEGUR THIRD GROWTH	2015	$340.00
	95/100 Decanter: "Really lovely bouquet: totally aromatic and full of finesse and restrained power. Great charm and purity of fruit on the palate, showing lovely precision and persistence. This château continues on its progression to the top."

Château Clerc-Milon

Located in the northern part of the Pauillac appellation, Clerc-Milon is one of eighteen Cinquièmes Crus (Fifth Growths) and faces Château Lafite Rothschild across the Route des Châteaux. Having become increasingly fragmented through sell-offs, it was acquired in 1970 by Baron Philippe de Rothschild, of Mouton Rothschild fame, as a do-up with great potential, and he immediately set about renovating the estate, constructing a new vat house and weaving his well documented magic on the château's imagery. The vat house is the first in Bordeaux to claim High Environmental Quality certification. The 45-hectare vineyard is planted in 50% Cabernet Sauvignon, 36% Merlot, 11% Cabernet Franc, 2% Petit Verdot and 1% of Carménère, the latter consisting of vines that were planted back in 1947. Clerc-Milon is now making the best wines in its history, beguiling, classically-styled expressions of currant, blackberry and spice, and can boast an outstanding run of recent vintages.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
46210	CHATEAU CLERC MILON FIFTH GROWTH PAUILLAC	2014	$290.00
	92/100 erobertparker.com / Wine Advocate, Neal Martin: "The 2014 Clerc Milon is more backward on the nose compared to the d'Armailhac: quite sumptuous in style with black fruit, dark plum, vanilla and a pungent violet scent. The palate is wonderful: a fabulous line of acidity, tensile and focused, mineral and intense with blackberry, citrus fruit, bilberry and cedar towards the elegant, yet intense finish. There is something almost Lafite-like about this Clerc-Milon and in my book, there is nothing wrong with that."
	95/100 James Suckling: "Extremely floral with blackberry and blueberry character plus hints of violets. Full-bodied yet always in check and reserve with fine tannins and bright acidity that goes on for minutes. Limestone undertones. The finish is particularly long this vintage. Super Clerc. Try in 2021."

Château Kirwan

This Margaux Grand Cru Classé estate is home to a late-18th century château built by Irishman Mark Kirwan. Third American president Thomas Jefferson is said to have been a fan, and it was listed the first of the Third Growths in 1855. The Godard family took charge in the second half of the 19th century, expanding the vineyards and installing grounds and gardens. The Shÿler family took over in 1926, having arrived in Bordeaux in 1739 to immerse themselves in the business of wine. They are still present today, in the form of Sophie, Nathalie and Yann Shÿler, who oversee the 37-hectare property of 45% Cabernet Sauvignon, 30% Merlot, 15% Cabernet Franc and 10% Petit Verdot vines, and employ experienced oenologist Philippe Delfaut as their managing director.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
42540	CHATEAU KIRWAN K DE KIRWAN	2016	$66.99
	Produced mainly from younger vines at Château Kirwan, this is the estate's second wine. It is ripe with berry fruit, dense tannins and the potential of further aging. It is on the point of showing signs of maturity, as the fruit conveys mushroom as well as berry flavors.
42517	CHATEAU KIRWAN THIRD GROWTH	2014	$115.00
	Deep dark purple hues. A broody yet opulent wine featuring an attack of blackberries and cinnamon, with notes of yeast, cedar, tobacco and chocolate.

Chateau Marquisat

The Alzumara family first acquired the estate in 1939, and in the greatest respect for nature and for tradition, refused the use of any herbicides or chemical fertiliser on their vines. The property was sold in 2011 to Mr. Lévrier, who continues this approach and has gone even further, attaining organic certification and adhering to the Dynamis charter (natural winemaking principles, with no additives).

49151	CHATEAU MARQUISAT LA PEROUSE BORDEAUX SUPERIEUR	2016	$27.99

Sited in the Blaye Côtes de Bordeaux region, Château Marquisat la Pérouse is an organically certified and biodynamically managed Merlot-dominant property. This is 100% Merlot, with no artificial additions to the winemaking process. Sleekly smooth and plummy, with a lovely supple quality and great fruit purity.

Château d'Yquem

First Growth, unassailably top of the class and the stuff of legend, this, though the building itself is more of a fortified farmhouse than a château, really. The golden, ambrosial expression they produce is famed the world over. Of course all of this is brought about by serious attention to detail. The botrytised grapes are carefully removed with small secateurs so as not to damage the remaining fruit that is still bringing itself to, well, fruition, with each plot picked over an average of six times in a season. The grapes are pressed immediately upon arrival at the cellar, the juice put straight into new oak barrels and aged for 30 months, with regular topping and racking. Yquem's philosophy has been the same for five centuries: to finesse nature and produce an average of just one glass of brilliance per vine. If the quality is not worthy of the estate's reputation in a given year, it is not sold under the château name. Nine vintages were thus not marketed by Yquem in the 20th Century. The estate is these days managed by Pierre Lurton on behalf of the L.V.M.H. group.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
41764	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH	2001	$1450.00
	100/100 Robert Parker: "Just a perfect Yquem – absolutely flawless. The nose just explodes from the glass with honey, citrus fruits, orange peel, almond, coconut and lots of creamy new oak that is completely subsumed into the bouquet. The palate has perfect balance, vibrant acidity and a sense of tautness and poise that I would love to infuse into the preceding Cuvee da Capo! Incredibly length, this is just an exceptional Yquem born a legend."
41754	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH	2006	$999.00
	96-98+/100 Robert Parker: "This light gold wine offers up a sensational smorgasbord of aromas including huge honeyed pineapple and other caramelized tropical fruit flavors, massive richness, and a viscous, unctuous texture with the oak beautifully integrated."
41756	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH	2007	$1250.00
	98/100 Robert Parker: "Tasted single blind against its peers. Under blind conditions, the Yquem 2007 shines like a diamond. Nevertheless, it is initially rather taciturn on the nose, eventually opening up beautifully with touches of lemon curd, Mirabelle, and clear honey. The palate is medium-bodied with very fine definition and there seems to be a great deal of energy and vigor dispensed for your pleasure. There is such race and nervosity, and then that finish just purrs with harmony and focus. This Yquem feels just so alive and vivacious, yet there is an effortless quality here that is unmatched by its peers. Tasted January 2011." - Neal Martin
41887	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH	2010	$1250.00
	96-98/100 Robert Parker: "Picked predominantly over 10 days from October 14, the 2010 d'Yquem has 141gms/L residual sugar and pH 3.80. It is a slow-burner, the nose understated at first but unfurling with each passing moment with subtle scents of freshly sliced apricots, Clementine, clear honey and white flowers. There is an underlying minerality that really defines this bouquet. The palate is similar to the nose, revealing hidden facets with almost each swirl of the glass – orange blossom, limestone, white peach and honeysuckle. This is such a precise d'Yquem; it is after you have swallowed the wine that one comprehends just how brilliant it is."
	95-97/100 Robert Parker: "Firstly, you notice the colour, which is a touch deeper than recent vintages at this stage. The bouquet is quite honeyed and rich for Yquem at this early juncture, with subtle scents of peach skin, white flowers, and a puff of chalk and frangipane. The palate is viscous on the entry, all about the texture at first, coating the mouth with luscious botrytized fruit. There are touches of Seville orange marmalade, fresh apricot, a hint of spice and passion fruit. This is imbued with impressive depth and weight, perhaps an Yquem that is determined to make an impression after last year's absence. It might not possess the finesse of a top flight Yquem, but it has immense power and persistency." - Neal Martin

	Yquem's philosophy has been the same for five centuries: to finesse nature and produce an average of just one glass of brilliance per vine. The 2014 d'Yquem was widely regarded not only as the top sweet wine from the 2014 vintage, but the top wine from the vintage. An exceptional d'Yquem that will age for many years.
	97-99 / Robert Parker, The Wine Advocate - Lisa Perrotti-Brown "There was no frost at d'Yquem in 2017, and botrytis was very regular and even this vintage. The nose opens with very pure notes of freshly sliced oranges, yuzu and lemon barley water with hints of white pepper, fresh ginger and lime cordial. The incredibly rich, unctuous sweetness (148 grams per liter of residual sugar) is beautifully marbled with bright, vivacious citrus fruit and spice flavors, while lifted by well-knit freshness, and it finishes with epic length and great depth." 98-99 / James Suckling " The tannins and phenolic tension are very impressive to this. Dried-lemon undertones and burning botrytis. Full-to medium-bodied, linear and racy. Beautiful fruit and intensity. Such clarity. Extreme but wonderful style."
41767	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH (375ml)	2006	$599.00
	96-98+/100 Robert Parker: "This light gold wine offers up a sensational smorgasbord of aromas including huge honeyed pineapple and other caramelized tropical fruit flavors, massive richness, and a viscous, unctuous texture with the oak beautifully integrated."
41753	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH (375ml)	2007	$799.00
	This is the benchmark when you're talking Sauternes, the honeyed citrus characters effortlessly vibrant as they tantalize the nose and roll across the tongue. Superbly rich and harmonious. Put it on your bucket list.

49101	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH (375ml)	2014	$550.00
	Yet another French house steered to further success by the steely determination of a winemaking widow, in this instance Françoise-Joséphine de Sauvage d'Yquem, otherwise known as La Dame d'Yquem. The only estate with a Premier cru supérieur designation, Yquem's goal has been the same for five centuries: to finesse nature and produce an average of just one glass of brilliance per vine. The 2014 d'Yquem was widely regarded not only as the top sweet wine from the 2014 vintage, but the top wine from the vintage. An exceptional d'Yquem wine that will only grow in stature over the years.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
49161	CHATEAU D'YQUEM SUPERIOR FIRST GROWTH (375ML)	2016	$570.00
	95-97/100 Neal Martin - "A classic blend of 75% Sémillon and 25% Sauvignon Blanc, it has a comparatively nuanced bouquet compared to Yquems that I have encountered at this stage. It opens gradually with light honeyed aromas, white flowers, apple blossom and just a touch of honeysuckle, although it does not possess the bravura personality of the astounding 2015. The palate is medium-bodied with a viscous opening, a subtle spice note leaving the mouth tingling. This is a fresh Yquem, tensile with moderate weight and delivering, perhaps belatedly, fine attack on the finish lined with subtle lemongrass notes. It will be interesting to plot the progress of this Yquem throughout its barrel maturation. This is an excellent Yquem no doubt, though I was missing that nerve, the labyrinthine complexity that can mark a top-tier Yquem even at this premature stage. I suspect that this will drink earlier than others, but age in a style only it knows. Drink 2026-2070"
44441	CHATEAU D'YQUEM Y DE CHATEAU D'YQUEM BLANC	2014	$509.00
	With an annual production of 10,000 bottles a year, Y (pronounced "ee-grek" in French) is a rare wine. It is made from the same outstanding terroir and the same vines as Chateau d'Yquem. Although work in the vineyard is every bit as meticulous, the grapes are picked and the wine made in a different way. It usually consists predominantly of Sauvignon Blanc and a few lots of Semillon.

92 / Decanter "I have been consistently impressed with the efforts and investment happening at this property since the Mommeja brothers took over (with Renaud very much taking the lead). This is tightly drawn and austere right now but the elements are all in place, showing good dark fruits, fresh acidity running through the palate, and rich, well integrated tannins. Good potential. Planted to 53% Merlot, 44% Cabernet Sauvignon with the rest Cabernet Franc. Drinking Window 2025 - 2038."

Château Haut Bergey

Château Haut Bergey's history dates back to the 15th century. It was originally known as La Maison Noble de Pontey. The estate was brought by Francois de Cresse, a member of the Bordeaux parliament in 1700. He very quickly grew the vineyard to 100 hectares. The estate was brought by Sylviane Garcin-Cathiard in 1991. Sylviane is the granddaughter of a well-known Bordeaux wine merchant. Of the red varieties, the Haut Bergey vineyard is planted with 54% Cabernet Sauvignon and 46% Merlot. Of the white varieties, it is planted with 82% Sauvignon Blanc and 18% Semillon. Most of those vines were planted in 1989.

	89/100 Burghound: "This is prettier still with ultra-pure and very fresh red pinot fruit that complements well the supple, vibrant and equally fresh flavors that are shaped by unusually fine tannins for what this is as well as very solid length. This is a beautiful Chorey and worthy of consideration as well. Sweet Spot. Outstanding. Drink: 2013+."

Château d'Issan

A Third Growth Margaux that produces beautiful aromatic and delightful wines that sit well above their price structure with the best of the appellation.

The history of the property dates back to 1152 and includes being served at the wedding of Eleanor of Aquitaine to King Henry II. Owned now by the Cruse family who have a long and prestigious history in the Medoc.

	91 / Vinous, Antonio Galloni "The 2015 Blason d'Issan is a superb second wine. Dark, powerful and enveloping, the 2015 has so much to offer in its fleshy, inviting personality. Dark plum, leather and cedar are some of the many nuances that flesh out in this resonant, super-expressive Margaux. I loved it."
49246	CHATEAU D'ISSAN THIRD GROWTH MARGAUX	2016	$199.00

Château Lafite Rothschild

Château Lafite Rothschild is located at the northern tip of the Pauillac appellation, sitting in the shadow of Saint-Éstephe's Cos d'Estournel. Though it is not certain exactly when vines were first planted at Lafite, its history dates back to medieval times. Classified in the 1855 classification as a First Growth, Lafite was considered at the time to be the top of that group, its remarkably consistent performance over the ensuing years ensuring that reputation has remained unchallenged. The 100-hectare property is planted predominantly with Cabernet Sauvignon. Lafite go to extreme lengths to ensure quality: only around a third of the crop ends up in the Grand Vin, and the wine is matured in barrels produced by Lafite in their own cooperage. The estate's second wine is under the label Carruades de Lafite.

42585	CHATEAU LAFITE ROTHSCHILD FIRST GROWTH PAUILLAC	1982	$19500.00
	"All three 1982 first-growth Pauillacs have turned out to be wines of extraordinary complexity, richness, and aging potential. To no one's surprise, they are all different. The two most backward wines are Lafite-Rothschild and Mouton-Rothschild. The 1982 Lafite possesses a dark, dense ruby/purple colour with only a subtle lightening at the rim. Spectacular aromatics offer jammy cherry and black fruits intertwined with lead pencil, mineral, and smoky wood scents. Powerful for a Lafite, this wine unfolds to reveal extraordinary richness, purity, and overall symmetry in addition to stunning flavour, depth and persistence. The finish lasts for nearly a minute. Plenty of tannin remains, and the wine displays a vibrancy and youthfulness that belie its 18 years of age. The modern day equivalent of Lafite-Rothschild's immortal 1959. An amazing achievement! Anticipated maturity: 2007-2070." 100 points, Rober Parker
41854	CHATEAU LAFITE ROTHSCHILD FIRST GROWTH PAUILLAC	1990	$3789.00
	"Light ruby. Rather a fight going on on the nose between Lafite's trademark elegance and the rich trollopey nature of the vintage. Quite unctuous on the palate – especially for a Lafite. This splits the difference nicely between super-ripeness – very flirtatious. Racy and completely covers the palate. More obvious acidity than the Latour 1990. Not quite as complete. Cabernet Sauvignon 57% Merlot 30% Cabernet Franc 13%." 19/20 points, Jancis Robinson
	Robert Parker: A candidate for the wine of the vintage, the 2007 Lafite Rothschild (84% Cabernet Sauvignon, 15% Merlot, and 1% Petit Verdot) reveals classic Lafite aromas of graphite, unsmoked cigar tobacco, black currants, cherries, and a hint of truffles. The complex aromatics are followed by a round, medium to full-bodied wine with silky tannins, an overall subtle smoky component, and a rich, round, generous, plump finish. Already evolved and delicious, it should continue to drink well for two decades. 94/100.

	Always a delight to try Lafite, at any stage of its evolution and the 2015 En Primeur was certainly a highlight. An ethereal perfumed nose greeted though was showing some restraint right now. What then presented on the palate was amazing, intense structure and power with such finesse. Gorgeous red fruits, that were bright and fresh whilst at the same time being very ripe, a contradiction almost. A very well-balanced wine, the finish even at this stage evolves before you in the glass. Just fabulous. Tight red fruits and sweetness dominate the finish. Stunning, ethereal and a very distinctively Lafite.

Lafite's history dates back to medieval times. Ranked in the 1855 classification as a First Growth, Lafite was considered at the time to be the top of that group, its remarkable performance over the years ensuring that reputation has remained unchallenged. The estate goes to extreme lengths to ensure quality, with only around a third of the crop ending up in the Grand Vin and the wine matured in barrels produced by Lafite in their own cooperage. Ambrosial, sumptuous, sleekly captivating.
 100 / James Suckling "Even stronger and more toned than the excellent 2015, this Lafite shows incredible power yet also finesse. Full-bodied, superfine and chewy wine. Muscular yet agile. Goes on for minutes. Stunning. Perhaps the greatest Lafite since the legendary 1959?"

Chateau Meyney

Chateau Meyney is one of the oldest estates in the Medoc. In 1662, it was a Convent mentioned in records under the names Couvent des Feuillants or Prieure des Couleys. Today, the estate stretches over some of the best hilltops above the Gironde Estuary. The river lying alongside the first rows of vines makes for a majestic, serene landscape. The estate belonged to the Luetkens family for several generations, and was then acquired by Mr Desire Cordier in 1919. In 2004, CA Grands Crus, a subsidiary of the Groupe Credit Agricole, acquired Chateau Meyney, with a determination to strengthen the potential of this outstanding cru. An improvement plan was put together for the entire estate. It is supervised today by Anne Le Naour, the Technical Director, and the consultant oenologist, Hubert de Bouard. The company CA Grands Crus, a fully-owned subsidiary of the Groupe Credit Agricole, became, in 2004, the owner of prestigious Bordeaux estates: Chateau de Rayne Vigneau, 1er Grand Cru Classe Sauternes, Chateau Grand-Puy Ducasse, 5eme Grand Cru Classe Pauillac, Chateau Meyney,

Château Nénin

The Demay family are thought to have planted vines here in the mid-18th Century, with the Despujol family founding the estate and running it for over 150 years. This is a huge property by Pomerol standards, with over 32 hectares of vines planted in 75% Merlot and 25% Cabernet Franc. The terroir is gravel, clay and sand carrying some fairly old vines. Château Nénin also boasts a regal, 19th Century building that would feel right at home on the Left Bank. Winemaking here is traditional, with 30% or less new oak, the wines masculine and structured, with great longevity.

Château Ormes-de-Pez

This estate is located in the hamlet of Pez, the old French word for 'peace'. At one time, the château also had very old elm trees ('ormes' in French) dating back to the 18th Century. Marie Cazes married the owner of Ormes-de-Pez in the late 19th Century, and when widowed, in fine French tradition she took on the task of managing the estate. The property was purchased just before WWII by Marie's brother, Jean-Charles, then owner of Château Lynch-Bages in Pauillac. The Cazes family's link with this exceptional cru thus goes back more than a century. Ormes-de Pez produce dependably fine wines year after year, and much investment has been made in the facilities since the early 1980's, as part of an ambitious renovation programme.

The palate is medium-bodied with grippy tannin. It felt a little pinched, but the finish shows vivacity and focus with graphite-infused black fruit. It just cuts away swiftly on the finish. This is one of the few 2014s that I felt did not match up to its showing in barrel, then again, it often does repay several years down in the cellar."

Château Pavie

The slopes of Pavie first felt the touch of vines at the hands of the Romans in the 4th Century AD, however it only found fame as a Bordeaux producer a couple of millennia later. By the mid-19th Century Pavie was recognised as one of the first classed growths in Saint-Émilion. The estate was divided in two in the late 1800's, forming Châteaux Pavie and Pavie-Decesse, with the Macquin family following suit, purchasing parcels and creating Pavie Macquin. The 37-hectare, Premier Grand Cru Classé A Pavie estate has been in the hands of the Perse family since 1998 and sits on three different levels. On the southern slope of the Saint-Émilion hill, it is one of the largest in the appellation, containing a mix of 60% Merlot, 25% Cabernet Franc and 15% Cabernet Sauvignon. Enhanced by a low yield approach and sophisticated facilities, the wines are highly individual and elegant, displaying a comprehensive level of complexity.

Château Pavie Decesse

Although Saint-Émilion's Château Pavie Decesse can trace its roots back to Roman times, it is really only since Gerard Perse, owner of Château Monbousquet, purchased the property that the quality took a massive leap forward. Perse ordered extensive work in the vineyards and winemaking facilities. Up until 1855, Pavie and Pavie Decesse were one and the same vineyard. Then owner Ferdinand Bouffard separated the vineyards, with both properties ultimately ending up in the hands of the Perse family. The two are, however, very different properties, with their own unique terroir and wine styles. Pavie Decesse is planted in 90% Merlot and 10% Cabernet Franc, the vine-age averaging 40 years-plus. The wines are lushly opulent and sensually textured, with Gerard Perse stamping his mark and introducing a distinct uplift in quality.

Château Pavie Macquin

Pavie Macquin took its name from founder Albert Macquin, a specialist in grafting and root stocks who was instrumental in saving not only Saint-Émilion, but much of Bordeaux from the predations of the Phylloxera epidemic that destroyed so much of France's vinous heritage. It was Macquin's idea to graft European vines onto American root stocks, and thus save the day. Owned by the Corre-Macquin family, the estate was producing below-par wines until the introduction in the 1990's of the A-team of Stéphane Derenoncourt and Nicolas Thienpont who, as elsewhere, have ridden into town and turned things around. The 15-hectare vineyard possesses a complex terroir consisting of nine different soil types, and the 40-year-old vines are 85% Merlot, 14% Cabernet Franc and 1% Cabernet Sauvignon. Farming is undertaken using organic and sustainable principles and the winemaking facilities have undergone a complete makeover. These days undeniably one of the stars of the Saint-Émilion firmament, the Pavie-Macquin wines are strong, full bodied and generous.

Château Potensac

Château Potensac is one of the three estates owned by the Delon family, with the other two being Château Leoville Las Cases in Saint Julien and Château Nenin in Pomerol. Château Potensac is located on a high point in North Medoc. The vineyard is over 84 hectares, on mainly hilly mounds with a limestone subsoil covered with clay and gravel. Château Prieuré-Lichine Reflecting the Church's long love affair with things vinous, Prieuré-Lichine was founded back in the 12th century by monks who used it to produce the vinos for their meals and religious ceremonies. The church hung in there until the French Revolution, when, in a 'no-more wine-with-dinner' moment, the estate was seized, divided and disposed of. The portion that became Prieuré-Lichine received a Fourth Growth classification in 1855, and a much-neglected 11ha property was acquired in 1951 by Alexis Lichine (a.k.a. 'the Pope of Wine'), who with much patient dedication restored vineyards and cellars to their former status. Lichine, along with a consortium that included Count de Lur-Saluces of Chateau d'Yquem, invested heavily and seriously expanded the estate that now covers 78 hectares. It was sold to the Groupe Ballande in 1999, and they astutely employed the ubiquitous Stéphane Derenoncourt as their consulting oenologist. God knows how he fits it all in; with his name everywhere, there must, by now, almost be more pies in play than available fingers.

Château Pichon-Longueville Baron

Commonly referred to as Pichon Baron, this property began life as part of the same estate as Château Pichon-Longueville Comtesse de Lalande, but was split apart in 1850 when the then owner, 90-year-old Baron Joseph de Pichon-Longueville died and bequeathed the property equally between his five children, the women receiving Pichon Lalande and the men what would become Pichon Baron. It remained in family hands right through to 1933, but following a difficult period through the 1960's and 70's, it was purchased by the AXA insurance group who, with the resources at their disposal, immediately began to turn things around, producing stunning 1989 and 1990 vintages. The wines have continued to improve to the point where they are now some of the most sought-after in Bordeaux. The hallmarks are a supremely rich spiciness and highly concentrated, tannic fruit that retains its elegance for decades. 65% Cabernet Sauvignon, 30% Merlot, 3% Cabernet Franc and 2% Petit Verdot are planted across the 40-hectare deep gravel vineyard, with some vines planted back in the 1930s.

Champagne

Henri Giraud

Until recently very much a Grower, rising popularity has led to Henri Giraud purchasing fruit, technically propelling them into negociant status. Technicalities aside, these are nonetheless unique and eclectic wines. Located in Aÿ, the home of great Pinot Noir, all the wines are made from Grand Cru vineyards. It is all about the oak, taken from the now neglected Argonne forest, historically the source of all oak used in champagne. Carrying attention to detail to a whole new level, Giraud have established GPS positions on individual trees in order to match particular characters in each part of the forest with selected vineyard parcels.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
48338	HENRI GIRAUD ARGONNE	2008	$660.00
	Only 4000 bottles were produced of this incredible Champagne, named after the Argonne oak forest, from which Henri Giraud produces their bespoke barrels. Robert Parker famously described ARGONNE as "the way I think Krug SHOULD taste". A unique wine made only in exceptional vintages, that matches the terroir of the vines, with specific terroir within this historic oak forest. 90% Pinot Noir and 10% Chardonnay, from a superb Ay Grand Cru plot of 50yr old vines. 2008 is one of the finest vintages of all time, with beautifully ripe fruit and perfect fresh acid balance. 100% fermented and aged in specially selected new 228 litre Argonne Oak barrels. The laser engraved bottles rest in the chalk cellars for 9 years, and are disgorged with 7.5g/l of dosage, creating a sumptuous yet elegant, precisely defined champagne of stunning mineral purity and great ageing potential. ARGONNE is truly one of the world's greatest wines.
48343	HENRI GIRAUD BLANC DE CRAIE		$79.00
	The Blanc de Craie is Giraud's newest Champagne, and an even better version of his classic Blanc de Blancs. 90% of the fruit comes from the Montagne de Reims, which has a 200m-thick layer of chalky limestone (Craie). The wine spends twelve months in stainless steel before being blended with 10% Grand Cru Aÿ Chardonnay that has spent the same time in Argonne oak barrels. This complex blend then matures for two years in the bottle. A lovely mineral tension and freshness holds it together, but it still retains the signature Giraud richness.
48346	HENRI GIRAUD DAME JANE ROSE GIFT BOX		$120.00
	Until recently very much a Grower, rising popularity has led to Giraud purchasing fruit, technically propelling them into négociant status. Technicalities aside, these are unique wines, with this the new rosé in the range, the Hommage base wine blended before bottling with Aÿ Grand Cru Pinot Noir from 70-year-old vines.
48356	HENRI GIRAUD ESPRIT DE GIRAUD BRUT NATURE NV		$64.99
	Giraud use very little additional sulphur, and in future disgorgements we are likely to see these reduced further. All of their champagnes are sourced from Grand Cru vineyards. State-of-the-art boutique.
48337	HENRI GIRAUD MV ROSE WITH DEGRAFEUR		$335.00
	94/100 Antonio Galloni - "Rich, radiant and enveloping, the NV (MV) Fut de Chêne Rosé captures the essence of the Giraud house style. Sweet red berries, rose petal, mint and cranberry are all nicely pushed forward, but it is the wine's textural finesse and silkiness that are most impressive. I would prefer to drink this racy, flamboyant Rosé over the next few years, while the flavors remain vibrant. The Fut de Chêne Rosé is made from the same base as the Fut de Chêne (70% Pinot and 30% Chardonnay), but with the addition of 6% still Pinot. 50% Reserve Wine and dosage is 6 grams per liter."

A rich, fruity liqueur from Champagne house Henri Giraud, packed with aromas of roasted nuts, berry fruits and spices, and a full-bodied palate of stewed stone fruit, grapes and candied orange peel. This would be delicious sipped over ice with dessert.

J. Lassalle

Located just outside Reims, Lassalle is run by 3 generations of women, with 50% of the tiny 100,000-bottle production heading to the US. Lassalle led the way, the first of the Growers to really make waves in that market. Production is very traditional, with stainless steel, no oak, malolactic and 8-9gm dosage. They have 11ha, all Premier Cru, in Chigny-les-Roses, divided into 45 different parcels (50% Pinot Meunier, 25% Chardonnay and 25% Pinot Noir). The vineyards were planted by Angeline Templier's late grandfather, with the company officially becoming a partnership between grandmother, mother and daughter in 2006.

48361	J LASSALLE ANGELINE	2009	$159.00
	A blend of 60% Pinot Noir and 40% Chardonnay, named after Angeline Lassalle this wine is only made in exceptional years. The first vintage was created in 1973 by Jules Lassalle and launched in 1978, the same year as the birth of his granddaughter. A total of 6,000 bottles produced, 8gm/l dosage. The boldest style from Lassalle, an exceptional food wine.
48366	J LASSALLE BLANC DE BLANC	2009	$125.00
	A fresh floral style of Blanc de Blanc, as with all of the Lassalle Champagnes, there's a gentle touch to these wines.
48360	J LASSALLE PREFERENCE NV		$69.99
	Helmed by three generations of women, Lassalle were the first of the Grower champagnes to impact on the US market. There is a definitive house style, one of delicacy, freshness and unassailable quality.

Champagne Moutard

The Moutard-Diligent family can trace a history of viticulture as far back as 1642, but it was not until the 1920s that they began producing champagne under their own name. Today, helmed by François Moutard, the family estate consists of 21 hectares of vines in the Côte des Bar region of southern Champagne, where the distinctive clay and limestone soils foster rich and fruity aromatics. Working from recipes written down by the gloriously named Hyacinthe Diligent back in the 19th century, Moutard produce a full range of champagnes, including the unique Cuvée des 6 Cépages, made from six varieties. The non-vintage wines are all aged for at least three years, the vintage and prestige champagnes for ten to fifteen. Moutard may lack the fame of some of the other marques, but their softly-textured wines are nonetheless very impressive, and flying, as they do, somewhat under the radar, they offer exceptional value.

Lilbert-Fils Champagne

Located in Cramant, the Lilbert family have been grape growers since 1746, and winemakers since 1907. Five generations on, it's Bertrand Lilbert at the helm today with his father close behind. The smallest of all our Growers, 3.5ha divided into 15 parcels, 100% Grand Cru produce a tiny 27,000 bottles. 80% of the production is NV, the balance is made up of Vintage champagne and a small amount of Perle. The NV and the Vintage are traditionally made Champagnes, from 100% Chardonnay. Perle is made in a Cramant style, not to be confused with the village of Cramant, a low pressure style that is richer and sweeter. Peter Liem, in his Champagne guide, sums this producer up well: "The only problem with these wines is finding them, as the tiny production is eagerly snapped up upon release by a near-cult following of clientele around the world". We have just landed these wines and are delighted to have them as part of our Grower Champagne range.

	Disgorged the day before I tried it in March 2015, a blend of the 2009, 2010 and 2011 vintage. This wine is given a longer time on lees than the NV and made from vineyards with older vine age. There's just 4 kilos of pressure, which results from a shorter fermentation and less sugar. The mousse is very fine, the palate clean and dry with crisp green apple notes.
48385	LILBERT & FILS VINTAGE 2013	2013	$105.00
	The Lilberts make all the wines from their own vineyards in the Grand cru Cramant. Made exclusively from Chardonnay fruit, the wines are vinified in stainless steel tanks and undergo malolactic fermentation.

Loire

Didier Dagueneau

It's not often that one feels they are in the presence of winemaking genius, one whose energy and spirit seems to seep out of the bottle and live on. This was the late Didier Dagueneau. Decanter named Didier as one of the world's top ten makers of white wine, opining that his expressions 'tower over the rest of Pouilly-Fume' and that 'he makes brilliantly three-dimensional wines, while too many of his fellow producers struggle to make it to two.' The Sauvignon Blanc wines of this risk-taking Loire perfectionist are legendary. Meeting an untimely end at the age of 52 in a plane crash, his brilliant legacy has been kept alive by his family via the dedicated and talented hands of his son, Benjamin, and to this day Dagueneau's Silex is hailed as the pinnacle of Sauvignon Blanc production.

42726	DAGUENEAU SILEX	2017	$189.00
	"In many ways the ultimate Dagueneau wine, Silex is super-mineral, pure and crystalline, typically a driven, intense and very long-lived wine. Silex means flint and this wine is produced only from the flint-rich soils on the north-facing slopes of the hill of Saint-Andélain. The 2017 however is not at all austere and is already wonderful drinking. Expect an intense and layered wine with lemon, lime and orange zest aromatics as well as some smoky notes. The palate is generous and layered with something golden and lactic from the lees that informs the almost creamy texture. This hedonism is balanced by some fine, powdery extract. The length is phenomenal. A fully ripe and already glorious Silex—if anyone wonders why this Domaine is so famous, this wine holds all the answers. As with many of Dagueneau's wines, it is hard to recognise this as Sauvignon. It is a wine of terroir first and foremost."
42729	DAGUENEAU BLANC FUME VIN DE FRANCE	2017	$99.00
	This is the Domaine's only wine that is not terroir- or soil-specific and is produced from a blend of four vineyards. Two are plots situated away from the Saint-Andélain hill-one parcel of 15-20 year old vines on flinty-clay soils and another in the lieu-dit of Les Coques on limestone/marl (white clay) soil. This fruit is blended with young-vine parcels from Le Bois de Saint-Andélain itself. With these vineyards decimated by frost we have very little to go around. This is always the Domaine's most direct and accessible expression of Pouilly-Fumé. It is also a wine that has improved drastically under the direction of Benjamin Dagueneau and now comes far closer to the other wines in the range in quality and class. It's an invigorating and complex wine with a core of jasmine and ripe nectarine fruit, shot through with flint, oyster shell and chervil. The palate has lovely depth and flesh, leading to a long, grippy and saline crescendo. It's early days, but this is very impressive already
42722	DAGUENEAU PUR SANG	2017	$165.00
	"This is a powerful, deep wine—reflecting both the low yields and the exposure – yet the intensely mineral soils have also brought racy freshness and the precision that is widely associated with this producer's wines. This is probably Sancerre's most expensive wine, and yet the quality and transparency on offer is priceless. It opens with a depth charge of chalky, salty scents—is this actually Sauvignon the taster wonders?—before settling into a potent cocktail of chewy, pristine, citrus pith and nectarine fruit, with a crunchy, salivating close. No note can capture what's on offer. A "wow" wine."
42737	DAGUENEAU SANCERRE BLANC MONT DAMNE	2017	$169.00
	For years, Didier dreamed of making wine from this vineyard located in Chavignol, probably the most prestigious Grand Cru in the upper Loire valley. The Monts Damné vineyard is known for its deep limestone soils that give the wines a rare depth, and huge potential of aging. His dear friend and mentor, Edmund Vatan, provided the inspiration, and finally in the late 1990s, he had a line on a small, 1/2 hectare parcel in the heart of the vineyard. He bought it and then fought with both the local and AOC authorities for a couple years and finally was granted in 2000 with the rights to plant a small portion of the vineyard each year up to the current 0.8ha. The undisputed master of Sauvignon, moving to the other side of the Loire to put his legendary skills to the test on a legendary terroir. He experimented in 2005 with the first official vintage coming in 2006, a tiny amount that never left France. Since the 2007 vintage a very small amount of this rare wine has been available for NZ

Rhône

Domaine Bosquet des Papes

Bosquet des Papes was founded by the Boiron family way back in 1860 and, six generations later, the Boirons are still in the driver's seat. One of the oldest names in Châteauneuf-du-Pape, over the decades they have procured many small parcels of land, eventually gathering to themselves forty-three different holdings scattered all over the appellation. Within the 27 hectares at their disposal, 3.5 ha is made up of 100-year-old vines (used to produce their Chante le Merle), while the average age of the total planted area is 50 years. The style of Bosquet des Papes is characterised as rustic, traditional and complex, and the winemaking is meticulous, producing rich, powerful, distinctive expressions with an affinity for cellar time.

41307	DOMAINE BOSQUET DES PAPES CHATEAUNEUF DU PAPE	2018	$79.00
	Robert Parker, 90/100: The 2009 Chateauneuf du Pape Tradition, which is their biggest cuvee (close to 3,400 cases) is outstanding. A blend of 75% Grenache and the rest mostly Syrah and Mourvedre, with small amounts of Counoise, Vaccaresse and Cinsault, this wine, aged in foudres, has an open-knit, fragrant bouquet of black cherries, spicy, peppery herbs and licorice. It is medium-garnet in color, full-bodied, generous, corpulent, and a sexy, complex, relatively evolved Chateauneuf du Pape to drink over the next 8-10 years.
41209	DOMAINE BOSQUET DES PAPES LA GLOIRE DE MON GRAND PERE	2016	$79.00
	97/100 "I was questioning if the top cuvées were worth the money after tasting the traditional cuvée from winemaker Nicolas Boiron, then I tasted his 2016 Châteauneuf-du-Pape A La Gloire de Mon Grand-Père and decided that, yes indeed, the special cuvées in 2016 can certainly be worth the uptick in price. Based almost exclusively on Grenache (there's a splash of Cinsault and Clairette) sourced from the La Gardiole lieu-dit and aged mostly in demi-muids, this heavenly beauty offers awesome notes of garrigue, toasted spices, flowers, licorice and loads of sweet Grenache fruit. Voluptuous, flamboyant, and sexy, yet also elegant and seamless, with a weightless texture, this is Grenache at its finest and is going to knock your socks off over the coming 10-15 years." Jeb Dunnuck

Château Mont-Redon

Established back in 1344, Château Mont-Redon is distinctly old-school; it is, indeed, one of the oldest wine-producing estates in France, as well as the largest single property in Châteauneuf-du-Pape. The estate includes 100 hectares of the most perfectly-sited vineyards in the appellation. They operate from a manual they themselves call (with some justification) ‘ancient know-how.’ This involves hand selection of the fruit, a balanced blend of numerous varieties to highlight the aromatic qualities of the wines, sustained maceration to obtain the required depth and structure, and a refined barrel aging programme. The estate is currently in the hands of the related Abeille and Fabre families, who have been in charge here since 1923. With a continuing focus on innovation and a seamless generational transition currently underway, Mont-Redon’s future as one of the great crus looks set to be as bright as its past.

Les Vins de Vienne

Les Vins de Vienne is a highly successful négociant operation launched back in 1996 by a trio of Gallic winemaking superstars, Pierre Gaillard, François Villard and Yves Cuilleron. Originally devised as a project to rejuvenate the vineyards surrounding Vienne, the premise was expanded to encompass the key appellations of Côte-Rôtie, Condrieu, Saint-Joseph, Hermitage, Crozes-Hermitage, Cornas, Saint-Peray, Châteauneuf-du-Pape and Gigondas. The wines of Les Vins de Vienne harness the combined skills of these three talented winemakers, accessing the finest fruit available to produce an outstanding range that extols the best attributes of both northern and southern Rhône vineyards.

Domaine Le Colombier

Domaine le Colombier is one of those hidden gems that delights you no end. Located in the southern Rhône village of Vacqueyras, this historic property is managed today by Jean-Louis Mourre, whose father and grandfather purchased the property in 1963. Jean-Louis studied geology before being drawn to the estate in 1996, since his arrival the wines have become astronomically good. He does have great tools to work with, the cellar and vines are some of the oldest in the village - the oldest vines dating back to 1902.

Domaine des Bernardins

Beaumes de Venise has been producing wine since Roman times and is better known for its sweet fortified wines. Pliny the Elder (23-79 AD) wrote: "Muscat has been grown for a long time in Balme and makes wonderful wine." Since then the story of Muscat de Beaumes continued to be told: the home of Muscat was supplier to Pope Clement V in Avignon and then the entire kingdom's nobility, including Henry IV who had a taste for Muscat. Domaine des Bernardins has been a family estate for five generations. Louis Castaud, founder of AOC Muscat de Beaumes de Venise, father and grandfather of the current owners. A traditional producer, their range includes AOC Muscat de Beaumes de Venise and the newer AOC to the Rhone, AOC Beaumes de Venise Rouge.

Burgundy

Domaine Séguinot-Bordet

The Séguinot family's roots in Maligny, the front door to Chablis, can be traced as far back as 1590 when they began to write their history. Resting on the sloping right bank of the Serein River, 16 hectares lie on a perfect south/south-east exposition. The Kimmerridgian, 80 million years old, made of white clay and fossilised oysters, gives the wines their specificity. This maritime origin gives the wines a specific iodine character, genuine and inimitable typicity. Managed today by Jean-Francois Bordet, who is taking the property to new heights. The Séguinot Bordet Chablis is now one of our top selling Chardonnay through Glengarry with the new stocks of 2012 just landed.

Domaine Romanin

Domaine Romanin is located in Burgundy in the village of Fuissé, right at the heart of the famous vineyards of Pouilly-Fuissé, where the domaine's Vervier Family are now into their fifth generation of winegrowing. Unsurprisingly, tradition plays a key part in Denis Vervier's vinous strategies as he goes about crafting his exemplary and authentic expressions, with sustainable viticulture, manual harvesting, time-tested cellar techniques and scrupulous attention to detail all key components. The vines are between 30 and 70 years old and enjoy a south/south-eastern exposure that is highly conducive to ripening, with the clay and limestone soils typical of the region bestowing their own unique characteristics on the Chardonnay fruit via fruity and floral nuances. There is, particularly with the blended Pouilly-Fuissés, a skill in the assemblage that sets this area of Burgundy apart.

Domaine de Baronarques

The result of Baroness Philippine de Rothschild's encounter with an up-and-coming winegrowing region, Domaine de Baronarques is located in the heart of the Languedoc vineyard, at Saint-Polycarpe near Limoux.

Domaine de Baronarques has existed since the 17th century. After several changes of ownership, the estate was acquired by Baroness Philippine de Rothschild and her children in 1998. After extensive renovation of the vineyard and winery, it now produces very high quality wines. The estate spans 110 hectares (272 acres), 43 of them (106 acres) planted with Bordeaux and Mediterranean grape varieties. In 2003, Domaine de Baronarques was granted the AOC Limoux rouge appellation by the Institut National des Appellations d'Origine (INAO). Its wide variety of soils and micro-climates give its wines great complexity.

La Mascaronne

CHATEAU LA MASCARONNE lies at the heart of the Côtes de Provence appellation just outside the medieval village of Le Luc. La Mascaronne's chateau and cellar are centrally positioned within the 45 ha of vines growing on rolling hillsides of limestone and clay covered with small stones. The domaine, at an altitude of 300m, is enclosed by a sheltering forest of oak and pine. The excellent terroir, combined with an ideal climate and the skills of our dedicated team, are yielding wines of an exciting excellence.

Mira Luna

Mira Luna was formerly part of the historic Miraval estate. Tom Bove retained its 250 acres (17 acres of vines) at the time of the sale of Miraval to the Pitt-Jolies in 2008. Mira Luna is blessed with the most beautiful terroir where the moon rises over an undulating landscape shimmering with movement and mystery. Its beauty was such that it inspired a former Miraval owner, the jazz musician Jacques Loussier, to proclaim that Mira Luna was his very favourite part of the extensive Miraval Domaine.

Quinta Do Noval

When it comes to port, the 300-year-old house of Quinta do Noval is pretty much it; i.e. the state of the art. One of the oldest, and arguably the greatest, of all the port houses, Noval produce wines displaying an incredible delicacy and elegance, and they are unique in that their glorious Nacional, along with the Quinta do Noval vintage ports, Quinta do Noval Colheitas and Douro red wines all come from their single vineyard located in Pinhão, at the very heart of the Douro Valley. At the centre of that vineyard lies a tiny, treasured parcel planted with ungrafted vines that are 100% Portuguese rootstock untouched by phylloxera, from which Quinta do Noval make the legendary Nacional, the most famous and desired port in the world. The vineyard is, in its entirety, within the top classification, and planted with the noble grape varieties of the Douro, Touriga Nacional, Touriga Franca, Tinta Roriz, Tinto Cão, Tinta Barroca, Tinta Francisca and Sousão. A high degree of finesse and elegance characterize Noval's vintage ports, which are only declared in three or four years per decade, and only when

	97 James Suckling "Big grip in this wine with dark blackberries, blueberries and floral notes. Fine tannins. Ripe but sweet and pretty. Shows a lovely finish. Try after 2027." 17.5 / Jancis Robinson - Julia Harding MW "Black core with narrow purple rim. Beautifully scented with bergamot, very ripe black fruit and wild herbs. A savoury character, almost an umami note, adding complexity to the rich, spicy black fruit. Firm, dense, compact and all furled up on itself, with depth and richness but no excess weight. The impressive integration of the flavours means it is hard to describe the components separately. Fills the mouth and finishes long and chewy, with just enough freshness to balance."

Emiliana

Emiliana are located in Casablanca. The winery has not always been Biodynamic, in fact Biodynamic and organic viticulture has been far from the norm. This way of winemaking started as a trial and they report seeing such a difference in the wines and also in the people, they started moving more and more vineyards over. For the team at Emiliana it is not just a way of growing grapes, but a way of working that results in happier people. They have vegetable gardens that have been given to the workers, they can't continue to pay them more and more, but they can give them things to improve their lives, such as fresh vegetables. In doing so, they have also shown them how to grow things organically which has flowed through their work. A host of animals here, Alpaca, chickens, hens, and many more. The wines are very good, very clean, a cooler style due to the proximity to the sea, expressive, fragrant, very

Casa Lapostolle

Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle, great-granddaughter of the creator of Grand Marnier, is the force behind Lapostolle, spectacular winery overlooking Apalta Vineyards in the Colchagua Valley in Chile. The Marnier Lapostolle family, founders of the world-renowned liqueur Grand Marnier, is famous for producing spirits and liqueurs, but the family has also been involved in winemaking for generations. The Chilean chapter of the family was founded by Alexandra Marnier Lapostolle and her husband Cyril de Bournet in 1994. Now managed by the 7th generation, Charles-Henri de Bournet. Their vineyards in Apalta are now certified organic and bio, though the wines are not labelled that way, the grapes are certified, not the winery. These wines are very much Chilean terroir and French expertise, the consultant is Michel Rolland, known well in Bordeaux. These are wines that have been seen in NZ before, though

Vina Aquitania

Aquitania (pronounced Ak-A-tania) is a joint venture which brings France and Chile together. The story starts in 1984 when Bruno Prats (of Chateau Cos d'Estournel fame) and the late Paul Pontailier (Chateau Margaux) started looking for top terroir in the historic centre of Chile. They had a mutual friend, Felipe de Solminihac, a Chilean winemaker of French origin, who led them to the site they own today. The vineyard Quebrada de Macul, is located right in the heart of the Maipo Valley. Felipe knew of the site, travelling past it every day on his way to the winery he worked at then. All that time, understanding that this was the very best part of the region. The vines planted, of Bordeaux origin, the winery finished in 1993. Here you find French inspired winemaking with old vines in the heart of the Maipo valley. They are so much in the centre that the city of Santiago has come up to them and surrounded them.

Finca Allende

Created by brother and sister team Mercedes and Miguel Angel de Gregorio, Finca Allende is located in the hill town of Briones in the Rioja Alta, Spain. Known as a premium Rioja producer, 'Allende' can be roughly translated as 'further'. Their philosophy is to go further and further towards creating the perfect Rioja.

87807	FINCA ALLENDE AURUS	2010	$230.00
	95/100 Vinous - Josh Raynolds "Opaque purple. A suave, highly perfumed bouquet evokes dark berry preserves, cola, incense and smoky minerals, with an exotic Indian spice overtone. Silky, deeply pitched blackberry and bitter chocolate flavors become sweeter with air, picking up candied lavender and cocoa powder qualities. Fine-grained tannins give shape to the finish, which lingers with outstanding clarity and persistence."
87810	FINCA ALLENDE CALVARIO	2009	$220.00
87804	FINCA ALLENDE RIOJA	2013	$44.99
	"This is the winery's flagship red, of which 220,000 bottles are produced. The 2013 Allende was cropped from a wet and cool year with an early harvest that started on September 27th. The grapes come from vineyards in Briones on clay-rich soils, and the destemmed but uncrushed grapes fermented in stainless steel after a six-day cold soak at 5 degrees Celsius. The wine matured in French oak barrels for 14 months with rackings every four months. It's toasty and with a lactic touch, notes of toffee and something leafy (tea, tobacco). The palate is medium-bodied with some grapey flavors and fine tannins. A lighter vintage of Allende. It was bottled in February 2016." 91 points, Robert Parker

Alvaro Palacios

The host of innovative winemakers operating within Spain has been a significant factor in the country's success in recent years, hardy individuals unafraid to challenge centuries-old tradition, or preserve it where there is benefit in doing so. Leading the pack has been the charismatic and talented Alvaro Palacios, a perfectionist with a boundless energy for forging new vinous pathways and inserting fingers into a variety of pies. He replanted old vineyards and got working with Garnacha, a grape he considers 'the only variety that transforms heat and aridity into a beautiful, refreshing liquid.' His vision took off when in 1993 he brought the tiny L'Ermita vineyard and found himself producing a global smash. His Finca Dofi and L'Ermita vineyards are farmed biodynamically, and all of the wines are bottled without filtration. While the family winery in Rioja and his interests in Bierzo demand his attention, his weekly excursion to Priorat to address the range marketed under his own name is clearly a homecoming.

Finca Nueva

Finca Nueva is the younger sibling of Rioja's highly respected and almost mythical Allende winery, the creation of one of Spain's finest winemakers, Miguel Ángel de Gregorio, and his sister Mercedes. Finca Nueva was created as a device to shrug aside the constraints of Riojan tradition and allow the talented and influential Miguel Ángel a wider scope for his skills. The winery is based on 20 hectares of vines in Briones that are not used for Allende. While the Allende wines are serious in nature - tannic wines derived from vines immersed in iron-rich clay - the Finca Nueva expressions are fruitier and more immediately accessible, grown on largely calcareous soils and crafted with a new generation of wine drinkers in mind.

Palacios Remondo

We've spilt much ink, and young women many tears, over vinous heartthrob Alvaro Palacios. The man who has revolutionized Spain's Bierzo and Priorat regions took over the Riojan family vineyards established in 1945 by his father, José Palacios Remondo, and from 2000 has tipped them upside down in similar fashion. A perfectionist with irrepressible energy, Alvaro powered into town on his Palomino, lowered yields, heightened quality, emptied the coffers and filled his bottles with colourful, exciting, high quality expressions of the historic region. Palacios Remondo own all of their vineyards (a rarity in Rioja) and so have complete control, and vines that are getting some serious age, too. A rising star; both the winery, and the Rioja rocker himself. And a tip of the hat to José, a man of vision, who sent his progeny out into the world to visit its vinous spiritual centres and soak up their magic, before returning home to bestow their discoveries upon Spanish soils.

Dominio de Tares

Deliciously lyrical, Dominio de Tares say their wines are of 'great equilibrium' and 'cradled in noble woods.' Internationally recognised as responsible for putting the once moribund region of Bierzo back on the map, they're just over a decade old; an infant in Spanish wine terms, but they are giants in their approach, using ancient vineyards and painstakingly artisan-like practices to bring to bear Bierzo expressions as pure and characterful as can be coaxed from the multiple microclimates in which they operate. With a fierce focus on improving vintage by vintage, and harnessing some of the best oenological minds in Spain, they are a benchmark winery for their practices and, of course, for their delicious output.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
88113	DOMINIO DE TARES BALTOS	2016	$22.99
	Old-vine Mencía grapes deliver generous warmth and vibrancy. Aged four months in French and American oak and a further six in bottle, aromas of blackberry and cranberry are tinged with liquorice and oak. Spice and supple tannins add the finishing touches to a lingering, ripely flavoured palate.
88100	DOMINIO DE TARES BALTOS	2017	$24.99
	Harvested by hand bunch by bunch, fermented with its own natural yeast and aged for 4 months in French oak barrels with an extra 12 months in the bottle. Intense violet color with a fresh nose of wild black fruits, memories of licorice, graphite and fennel. Balanced and fresh on the palate with medium length.
88128	DOMINIO DE TARES GODELLO	2018	$29.99
	Dominio de Tares utilize old vineyards and painstaking artisanal practices to extract their pure, character-filled wines from Bierzo's terroir. Godello is an indigenous white grape variety. The viticulturists drop fruit by hand to deliver a low-yielding, concentrated wine displaying rich tropical fruit characters, nutty influences and a creamy lushness.
88126	DOMINIO DE TARES LA SONRISA DE TARES	2018	$29.99
	100% white Godello fruit off 15-year-old vines, hand harvested and fermented with wild yeasts. 2018 experienced a wet spring, warm summer and late harvest, delivering elegant, fragrant aromas and a refreshing palate. A smartly balanced wine offering crisp citrus characters, creamy acidity and a soft, smooth texture.

Tenuta dell'Ornellaia

The Ornellaia Estate was established in 1981 by Marchese Lodovico Antinori and is located in the village of Bolgheri, on the Tuscan coast. Poet Giosué Carducci captured the uniqueness of the area in his works. The vineyard released its first vintage in 1985. At Ornellaia, they believe that wines "must be the most faithful expression of the terrior that produces them". Respect for the estate's terrior guides all aspects of Ornellaia's winemaking.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail
64232	TENUTA DELL'ORNELLAIA ORNELLAIA	2013	$495.00
	93/100 Wine Spectator / Bruce Sanderson: "Vanilla, toast and smoke notes shade the black cherry and plum aromas, while the spicy oak theme carries over on the palate. A brash style that shows fine balance, but this will require time to find equilibrium. Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot. Best from 2018 through 2029. 12,000 cases made. – BS"
64234	TENUTA DELL'ORNELLAIA ORNELLAIA	2014	$699.00
	95/100 James Suckling: "Very floral and fresh with dark berry, lemon rind and hints of cloves and spice. Medium to full body, firm and silky tannins and a pretty finish of fruit, smoke, toasted oak and more spice. Better in 2019. Outstanding for the vintage."
