Barrel cellar at Domaine Anne Gros

Burgundy 2016

When I visited Burgundy last year, I arrived just as the devastating frosts of 2017 hit many parts of France. The talk of frost was everywhere, as the 2016 wines in barrel were another year badly affected. 2016 was initially written off by many in the very early stages; far too premature to have made such a call, and clearly not correct. The biggest impact of the frost through the region has been on quantity. Anne Parent explained that for their Bourgogne 2016 they had lost 90% of the vintage; Ladoix they had lost 50%, and on average the 1er Cru experienced 15 to 20% loss. The situation at Domaine Anne Gros was similar, with 60% of their 2016 vintage lost. You could see it in the barrel room, it was empty.

What about the quality of the remaining wines? For the white wines 2016 is a patchy vintage and producer is all important. Adding to the volume challenges with the frost, an unfortunately timed period of rain affected concentration in some wines. The key with white Burgundy from the 2016 vintage was selection. One of the villages that shone through in 2016 was Puligny Montrachet, especially at the 1er Cru level. From tasting the 2016 wines at Chartron, this certainly rings true. I found the wines more approachable at this stage than they generally are, reflecting the earlier drinking nature of the white vintage. They are also highly reflective of their vineyard site, even more so than usual at this early stage.

Thibault Marion at Domaine Seguin-Manuel

The quality of the reds from the 2016 vintage is excellent and generally accepted as higher than the whites. Discussing the quality with Nicolas Potel, he tends (as he does) to reflect on prior vintages and, for him, the 2016 reminds him of the 2014 vintage and the early 90's. It certainly does seem that the vigneronns prefer their 2016s to the 2015 wines, and I must admit I do have a preference for the 2016s also, the wines I tried were delicious. Whilst the 2015 wines overall are very charming and attractive with great acidity, there's a solid core of fruit ripeness and a crunchy freshness to many of the 2016 that I particularly liked.

That's unfortunately where the good news finishes. The 2016 vintage is excellent but tiny. This is no overstatement of facts, nor a marketing line to encourage you to purchase: there's quite simply extremely low quantities of these wines. We have worked through with all our suppliers to confirm the amounts that we can purchase from this year. Not only are available quantities low, there are many wines that will not be made at all from this vintage. The wines in this offer represent everything available.

We are opening these up for pre-arrival purchase from March through to the end of April. We will unfortunately need to allocate the wines, and we apologise in advance if you cannot receive everything you would like. We will confirm your pre-arrival purchase by the end of April. The wines will be shipped in the later part of this year and we'll advise when they arrive.

The team are well versed on the vintage and here to assist. With the overall quality of the 2016 vintage, and the small amounts available, it is a year to look across the region and consider the so called lesser villages; these wines always represent great value, and will be delicious early drinking Burgundy.

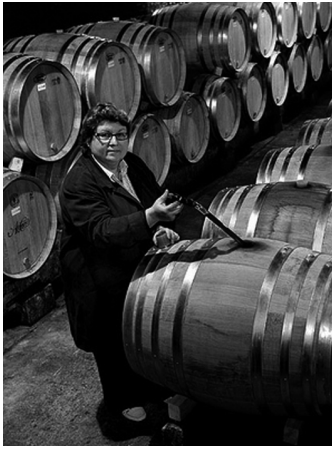

Kind regards,

Liz Wheadon

Nathalie at Domaine Lamarche

Domaine Parent

The Parent family can trace their roots back to Etienne Parent. He established a professional and friendly relationship with Thomas Jefferson in 1787 as his Burgundy wine advisor. The Parent family have been a permanent fixture in Pommard since this time, with the sixth generation, sisters Anne and Catherine now in charge. Their brother Francois works with his wife at their Domaine A.F Gros. Since 1998 Anne has modified her approach to the wines, 100% destemming, hand picking and using three sorting tables. The story here is a little like that of Domaine Lamarche, where the quality has soared in recent years.

PLU	Brand Name	Vintage	Retail	Now
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER
	89-91/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Bourgogne Pinot Noir Selection Pomone includes two barrels of Ladoix premier cru this year because of the frost damage, destemmed with a longer maceration on the skins and 10% new oak (demi-muids). It has an attractive, very pure and quite floral bouquet. The palate is ripe on the entry with tart red cherry and crushed strawberry and fine structure on the finish that is easily village cru level. This is fast becoming one of the hidden gems of Pommard and the 2016 is equal to the outstanding 2015." Neal Martin
45451	DOMAINE PARENT LA CROIX BLANCHE VILLAGE POMMARD	2016	$99.00	$79.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER
	88-90/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Pommard Village la Croix Blanche was 100% destemmed with 30% new French oak. It has a tightly-wound but detailed bouquet with black cherries, bilberry and subtle crushed stone aromas. The palate is well balanced with smooth tannin, an equal mix of red and black fruit and a touch of blood orange on the fresh finish. This is a very satisfying village cru." Neal Martin
45454	DOMAINE PARENT POMMARD 1ER CRU CROIX NOIRES	2016	$140.00	$112.00
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER
	90-92/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Pommard 1er Cru Les Croix Noires, one of the smallest premier crus of the appellation on fine grey clay soils, includes 10% whole-cluster fruit. It has a slightly more tertiary-driven bouquet than Anne Parent's other cuvées, just a hint of brine underneath the carapace of blackberry and wild cherries. The palate is medium-bodied with a little more volume and flesh than the Les Argillières, plus a little more length. Excellent." Neal Martin
45452	DOMAINE PARENT POMMARD 1ER CRU LES ARGILLIERES	2016	$140.00	$112.00
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER
	89-91/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Pommard 1er Cru Les Argillières includes 10% whole cluster and 35% new oak. It is more introverted than Anne's other cuvées at present, yet still nicely detailed with almost broody black fruit. The palate is structured, quite sinewy in the mouth, the tannins neatly counterbalanced by a fine thread of acidity though it clams up toward the saline, precise finish. Good potential here but it will need three or four years in bottle." Neal Martin

PRE ARRIVAL OFFER

91-93/100 | The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Pommard 1er Cru Les Chaponnières includes 10% whole cluster and 37% new oak. Slightly deeper in color than the other premier cru Pommards, it has a detailed Morello cherry, raspberry preserve and crushed stone-scented bouquet that is very well focused. The palate is medium-bodied with fine-grain tannin, tensile blackberry and red cherry fruit with a spicy, very sappy finish that conveys plenty of energy. You can still feel the mouth tingling long afterward. This may ultimately surpass Anne's excellent 2015." Neal Martin

89-91/100 | The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Beaune 1er Cru les Eponets was reduced to four barrels this vintage, fully destemmed with 35% new oak. It has a vivid blueberry and black cherry bouquet with a touch of crushed rose petals. The palate is medium-bodied with fine tannin, quite linear and strict with a slight chalkiness/mineralité toward the tensile finish. You can feel the nascent energy here." Neal Martin

Domaine Seguin-Manuel

Seguin-Manuel is an old estate, originally founded in 1824. In 2004 it was acquired by 42-year-old Thibaut Marion, born into wine and with experience including the family winery Chanson Père & Fils. The vineyards are managed organically, with no use of chemicals and quality in mind - small yields, strict pruning and green harvest. Initially located in Savigny-lès-Beaune, new plots have been added to the domaine in the villages of Beaune and Puligny-Montrachet since 2007, and more recently in Pommard and Meursault. More than 6 hectares of vineyard are now grown by the domaine. The wines are impressive, the quality will only go from strength to strength and, unusually for Burgundy, they represent excellent value.

	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER
	89-91/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Beaune 1er Cru Champimonts was whittled down to three casks, half as much as normal. It has a fragrant, quite perfumed bouquet with raspberry preserve, black cherries and a slight cold steel scent underneath that lends tension. The palate is well balanced with succulent ripe fruit, quite lively and pretty on the finish with a pleasant saline tang." Neal Martin
43471	DOMAINE SEGUIN-MANUEL BEAUNE 1ER CRU CLOS DE MOUCHES BLANC	2016	$125.00	$100.00

	87-89/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Beaune 1er Cru Clos des Mouches Blanc has a crisp, stony, rather introverted bouquet that demanded a lot of coaxing from the glass. The palate is a little waxy on the entry with good acidity, touches of nectarine and tangerine married with a light spicy vein that becomes more prominent toward the finish. Good potential here, if not quite at the level of the 2015." Neal Martin

	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 84-86/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Savigny les Beaune Vieilles Vignes, which contains the fruit usually bottled separately for Les Lavières, offers dusky blackberry and raspberry scents on the nose that is well defined. The palate is well balanced with slightly coarse tannin on the entry, moderate depth with some attenuation toward the finish. Hopefully it will manifest more fleshiness by the time this is in bottle." Neal Martin

The palate is well balanced with a fresh, quite vibrant opening and there is impressive tension and energy for a village cru that carries it over the finish line. This is a worthy follow-up to the last two vintages." Neal Martin

Domaine Jean Chartron

Established 1859 in Puligny by the cooper-craftsman, Jean-Edouard Dupard, the Domaine has been governed by our generations, focused on both the prosperity and the expansion of the prestigious vineyards. The village owes its name to Jean-Edouard Dupard, when in 1873 as mayor of Puligny, he asked the local council to authorise that the name Montrachet - the most prestigious local vineyard - be added to that of Puligny, the original name of the village. Jean-Rene Chartron, the 4th generation, is without doubt the one who brought the most to the Domaine, making wines of the highest quality. Today, it is his son, Jean-Michel Chartron, who holds the reins and is now taking it to even greater levels. These are exceptional white Burgundies.

41464	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON 1ER CRU CLOS DE LA PUCELLE	2016	$129.00	$103.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 92-94/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Puligny-Montrachet 1er Cru Clos de la Pucelle has a more austere nose than the Folatières, more stony and earthier in style, a bit aloof, but it begins to open with gusto with aeration. The palate is tensile and saline, very focused and intense with orange rind and sour lemon notes driving this forward. I love the energy and breeding of this Premier Cru that just has a sense of swagger about it." Neal Martin
41434	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON 1ER CRU CLOS DU CAILLERETS MONOPOLE	2016	$129.00	$103.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 92-94/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Puligny-Montrachet 1er Cru Clos du Caillerets is cut from a similar cloth to the Clos de la Pucelle but has more complexity with hints of linseed and Mirabelle. It grows in stature in the glass. The palate is fresh on the entry, quite energetic and saline, not quite as powerful as the Clos de la Pucelles, but it has precision and detail. I think the terroir will ultimately show through wonderfully here, one of the finest white Burgundy 2016s that I encountered during my tastings." Neal Martin
41439	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON 1ER CRU LES FOLATIERES	2016	$119.00	$95.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 90-92/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Puligny-Montrachet 1er Cru les Folatieres offers quite a generous bouquet with subtle hints of passion fruit and lychee filtering through the citrus fruit. The palate is rounded, quite rich with a honeyed texture, powerful and lightly spiced with an insistent finish that lingers in the mouth. It is a bullish and comparatively outgoing Folatières that will hopefully gain mineralité before bottling to "complete" the wine." Neal Martin
48306	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON BATARD MONTRACHET GRAND CRU	2016	$399.00	$319.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 94-96/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Bâtard Montrachet Grand Cru was reduced from four to three barrels because of the frost. It has a fine peach skin, red apples and cold slate scented bouquet that opens with confidence with aeration. The palate is fresh on the entry, very focused and with a keen line of acidity. Very harmonious with superb salinity on the finish that keeps you coming back. Due to be bottled by Easter, try and bag one of the 750 odd bottles." Neal Martin
48304	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON BOURGOGNE CLOS DE LA COMBE BLANC	2016	$31.99	$25.60
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER Jean Chartron's Bourgogne is always a step above the rest and the 2016 is no different. The palate is full of concentrated stone fruits, with a silky finesse to the mid palate and a wonderful long finish.

	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 88-90/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Chassagne Montrachet les Benoités felt closed on the nose at first, but it opens nicely with limestone and pine cones scents infusing the green apple notes. I admire the detail here. The palate is fresh and taut on the entry, a fine thread of acidity with a brush of clear honey toward the gentle but caressing finish. Simple but lovely." Neal Martin
48305	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON CORTON CHARLEMAGNE GRAND CRU	2016	$252.00	$201.60
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 92-94/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Corton-Charlemagne came from a one-year-old barrel (there will also be a new and two-year-old barrel). It has a straightforward brioche-tinged bouquet that opens nicely in the glass, with hints of peaches and cream and later gooseberry tart. The palate is well balanced, honeyed in texture with notes of dried apricot, frangipane and a hint of honey. It does not quite deliver the length, but this is undoubtedly a well-crafted Corton-Charlemagne from Jean-Michel that will give immense pleasure over the next 10 to 15 years." Neal Martin
41423	DOMAINE JEAN CHARTRON PULIGNY-MONTRACHET	2016	$99.00	$79.20
	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 91-92/100 View from the Cellar : "The village level bottling of Puligny-Montrachet from the Chartron family is one of the finest in the village and the wine has turned out beautifully in 2016. The bouquet wafts from the glass in a very stylish blend of pear, white peach, crème pâtissière, chalky soil tones, spring flowers and vanilla oak. On the palate the wine is deep, full bodied and complex, with bright, zesty acids, fine focus and grip and a long, classy and very well-balanced finish. I would try to give this at least a year's worth of bottle age to allow it to really blossom. 2019-2035" John Gilman

Domaine de Bellene

Most of us have grown to accept that the nomenclature of Burgundy wines can be confusing, but when you discover that the wines of Maison de Nicolas Potel now have nothing to do with the maverick man himself, that he now has his own estate, Domaine de Bellene - located in a 15th-Century abbey in Beaune - you can do an eye roll worthy of the French themselves. The untimely death of his revered father Gerard, and difficult financial dealings under his own name, saw the young and dynamic artisan launch Domaine de Bellene. Nicolas has converted his growers to organic practices, and adhering religiously to his philosophy, Domaine de Bellene is 100% Organic, Carbon Neutral and uses donkeys and horses for all vineyard work. Nicolas Potel has gone from strength to strength, establishing himself as one of Burgundy's top 'new breed' winemakers.

Domaine de Bellene

Domaine Lamarche

The family history in the village of Vosne-Romanée dates back to around 1740, and from the end of the 19th Century the estate has grown considerably. Henri Lamarche, a cooper, married Marie Grivelet from Chambolle-Musigny and founded the estate. From early in the 1700's wines were produced by various members of the family off the prestigious terroirs of Vosne-Romanée and Vougeot, including from La Grande Rue, one of the rare Grand Crus of Vosne-Romanée. This vineyard has an incredible terroir, sitting in between La Tâche and Romanée-Conti itself. Today the estate is run by the sixth generation, Nicole and Nathalie, who have begun to transform the quality back to where it should be.

	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 91-94/100 Jasper Morris MW: "From three plots. The same Lamarche colour once again. Quite floral for a Clos Vougeot, Nicole Lamarche's delicacy of approach once again in evidence. The intensity shows in mid palate and then a noticeable freshness of finish. It is good but perhaps not quite compelling, needing just a little more to it. The mid palate intensity is too short lived" 91-94/100 Burghound: "A nicely broad and unusually perfumed mélange displays notes of earth, spice, red currant and blackberry. The rich, delicious and supple middle weight plus flavors possess excellent delineation on the vibrant, intense and driving youthfully austere finish that immediately tightens up to confirm that this will also need extended keeping before it fully reveals its full potential. Allen Meadows

	PRE ARRIVAL OFFER 95/100 Tim Atkin MW: "Classic Burgundy" is how Nicole Lamarche describes the 2016 vintage, typified by this wonderfully scented, subtle Pinot from a 1.3-hectare holding of the Grand Cru. This is floral, fine and very elegant, all velvet and lace, with sweet summer pudding flavours and chiselled acidity. 2022-32" 92-95 Jasper Morris MW:"12 barrels. Same colour as all the rest, the nose needs some teasing out but there is an extra dimension to it, one part is floral, the other a little denser. This is graceful balanced, fine-boned, yet with a little energy underneath. The bone structure is not fully covered by the fruit, but very attractive floral notes abound nonetheless. Lots of detail here, a very fine Echezeaux."

95/100 | Tim Atkin MW: Showing a little bit of reduction - as it often does at this early stage - this comes from a 1.65-hectare parcel that's one of only five monopoly Grands Crus in the Côte d'Or. Showing notes of mint, cranberry and angostura bitters, it's textured, subtle and well balanced with fruit sweetness dominating the finish. 2022-32"

94-97/100 | Jasper Morris MW: "...Fine density to this, as discreet as you want up front, but nonetheless more detail than the earlier wines, very silky texture across the middle, not an extra burst of intensity but still a thread of velvet which endures for much longer..."

Domaine Anne Gros

The Gros family have been making excellent wine in the famous Burgundian commune of Vosne-Romanée since 1830, when Alphonse Gros married Madame Latour and acquired his first parcels of vines there. There were various divisions of the land until the latest generation took over in the mid nineties. Today Anne and her cousins Michel (Michel Gros) and Bernard (Gros Frere et Souer) are neighbours in the village of Vosne-Romanée, but their wine styles are very different. Until 1994, Anne labelled her wines under Domaine Anne and Françoise Gros (her father's name). Her vineyard holdings are very small, but they include the jewel in her collection: 0.6 hectares of Richebourg, first planted in around 1930. She has quickly gained a reputation as one of the finest and most sought after producers in Burgundy.

	86-88/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Bourgogne Pinot Noir suffered around a 50% loss in production due to frost. It has a fresh and generous bouquet with blackcurrant and raspberry preserve aromas. The palate has a lovely brightness to it, very well balanced with blackberry tinged with Earl Grey and a pinch of black pepper, leading to a refined if slightly short finish. This is a well-crafted Bourgogne Rouge." Neal Martin

	92-94/100: The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Clos Vougeot le Grand Maupertui comes from vines located adjacent to Grands Echézeaux. It has a very detailed bouquet: more black fruit here than red, cold slate-like scents, very well focused and yet tightly wound. The palate is medium-bodied with quite robust tannin at the moment. This is a more masculine, almost saturnine Clos Vougeot that insistently grips the mouth, the mineral element only appearing toward the finish. It will require five or six years in bottle but it will be worth the wait." Neal Martin

	92-94/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Echezeaux Grand Cru has a clean and pure bouquet, a little stoniness at first then blackberry, hints of cassis and blueberry, quite perfumed and floral. Maybe this is more linear than its peers? The palate is medium-bodied with a pleasing succulence on the entry, a keen thread of acidity that binds together a satisfyingly edgy finish. As usual, Anne's Echézeaux is full of tension but it will deserve several years in bottle." Neal Martin

	88/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Hautes Cotes de Nuits, which was not really touched by the frost, has a delightful, fragrant bouquet with brambly red berry fruit and a touch of strawberry pastilles. The palate is medium-bodied with light, crunchy tannin, fresh and vibrant with modest weight and concentration on the finish. One of the best that I encountered of its type." Neal Martin
	94-96/100 The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Richebourg Grand Cru, whose vines were less hit by frost than the Echézeaux or the Clos de Vougeot, boasts a magnificent bouquet with beautifully defined red berry fruit, cold limestone and pressed flowers. There is a sense of harmony and flow to this wine that sweeps you off your feet. The palate is very tensile right from the start. Maybe this is a more linear Richebourg to others at the moment and yet the intensity is completely locked into this wine. There are darker fruits than the bouquet suggests: blackberry, raspberry, redcurrant and a conspicuous pepperiness, almost feral on the finish that really imbues this wine with personality. Superb." 88-90/100 | The Wine Advocate: "The 2016 Vosne Romanee les Barreaux has quite a compact bouquet with scents of blackberry, bilberry and a touch of sous bois, a little introspective at the moment but pure. The palate is dense with thickset tannin, ripe and quite robust, maybe just requiring a little more finesse and Pinoté to come through on the finish. Give this a couple of years in bottle." Domaine Gros Frère et Soeur

Bernard Gros, whose vineyards and cellar back onto Domaine de la Romanee-Conti, produces his wines in a similar style to Michel, but very different terroir in his vineyards results in wines with more power than his brother. His quality begins with the fact he owns top quality parcels in each appellation. His Clos Vougeot-Musigni for example, is at the premier top of the cru just beneath the slope of Musigny, hence the name. One of the more conscientious producers, Bernard strictly limits his yields for the depth and concentration of fruit he seeks, and the wines are only lightly fined, never filtered. Gros Frère wines are deep and dark and whilst known for their expressive aromatics, their bigger structure and back bone means they definitely demand time in the bottle.

The sleek, intense, muscular and powerful big-bodied flavors are shaped by a firm core of ripe tannins that deliver excellent length on the youthfully austere finale. This is clearly built-to-age yet it's not hard or unduly backward." Note: from a 1.5 ha parcel that was replanted sequentially - 1985, 1988 and 1989; the wine carries the qualifier of Musigni because it comes from a lieu-dit by that name situated at the top of the Clos de Vougeot directly across from the vineyard of Musigny" Allen Meadows

In contrast to the prior wines this is going to require at least some bottle age before it will drink up to its potential." Allen Meadows 91-94 Jasper Morris MW: "For the first time this has been made from the young vines, planted in 1989 and 1995. The delicious, muscular and intense broad-shouldered flavors possess fine concentration and outstanding persistence if not great complexity. While this markedly firm effort needs to add depth, the underlying material appears to be present such that this will eventually develop." - Allen Meadows 91-94/100 Jasper Morris MW: "Rich dense purple, there is a concentrated wealth of jumbled up dark raspberry fruit. This clearly does have impressive weight, tension too, and proper concentration at the back. Good fruit acid balance, while the tannins are submerged in the fruit."

Allen Meadows 92-96/100 Jasper Morris MW: "The bouquet is really weighty but once again with the Gros Frère & Soeur wines, I just want more purity. This does arrive in the mouth though, to be fair, with the expected and necessary density of fruit, supported by both tannins and acidity. This is strong, powerful, tense stuff, with quite a lot of new oak. Pure, clean finish on darkly ripe fruit. I find it hard to be sure where this will go, but there is promise of something exciting."

I like the delivery but this will need to add depth to merit the upper end of my projected range." Allen Meadows 87/100 Jasper Morris MW: "From three vineyards, Au dessus de la Rivière, Aux Réas and Aux Communes. There is both good punch and a sleek muscularity to the delicious and solidly concentrated medium weight flavors that are supported by a firm core of tannins on the lingering finish.. .." Allen Meadows 90/100 Jasper Morris MW: "This is made from declassified Echezeaux, as has been their habit using the younger vines from their Loachaussees vineyard. But in 2016 the older vines (1966, 1976) have been declassified and the younger ones kept for the grand cru! Good depth of colour. This has a plump but rather fragile nose. Significant intensity of fruit here....."

Domaine Michel Gros

The Gros family's winemaking dynasty began in 1830 when 26-year-old Alphonse Gros set up in the famous Burgundian commune of Vosne-Romanée. Six generations on, the properties have been divided up amongst family members, and there are now four separate Gros domaines. Today Michel Gros heads up his own, consisting of his Clos des Réas (Premier Cru) property, along with excellent parcels in Vosne-Romanée, Nuits-Saint-Georges, Morey-Saint-Denis, Chambolle-Musigny and the Bourgogne appellations. The vineyards are meticulously managed on a low-yield regime, with all fruit hand harvested and traditionally fermented using cultured yeasts, which Michel believes provide greater finesse. His attention to detail has been rewarded with numerous accolades, including Best Winemaker and Best Pinot Noir at London's famed International Wine Challenge, two years in a row.

It has a tightly wound bouquet, a little muted at the moment with a distant marine/estuarine scent emerging reluctantly with time. The palate is medium-bodied and shows much better: the tannins quite fine, the oak nicely integrated (better than the Vosne-Romanée perhaps) with satisfying tension and salinité on the finish. 	89-91/100 The Wine Advocate: "A blend of Aux Murgers and Aux Vignerondes, the 2016 Nuits St Georges 1er Cru was showing quite a bit of reduction on the nose, making it difficult to read. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannin on the entry matched by a fine thread of acidity. This is very structured, quite Morey-Saint-Denis in style with a broody, square-jawed grippy finish that just needs to lighten up a little. It will certainly require 3 or 4 years to fully absorb the new oak that is conspicuous at the moment (as it often is at this stage)." Neal Martin

At the moment the new oak is a little dominant on the nose, and I would like to see more fruit come through. The palate is medium-bodied with slightly chewy tannin on the entry, very good substance and matière for a village cru, albeit with a finish that feels just a little blunt at the moment. Give it a couple of years in bottle to absorb the oak." Neal Martin

The palate is crisp and fresh with fine-grain tannin. I appreciate the tension and energy conveyed by this Chaliots, demonstrating more precision and details than the village cru and with better persistence on the aftertaste. It will require 2 or 3 years to absorb the oak, but it should turn out well." Neal Martin

It remained a little taciturn with broody blackberry and raspberry scents, confit cherries emerging with time in the glass. The palate is medium-bodied with supple tannin and a fine bead of acidity. It clams up a little toward the second half that is driven by the wood tannins at the moment. As I remarked last year apropos the 2015, I wish the new oak would allow the great terroir to have its say." Neal Martin

Domaine Tortochot

Domaine Tortochot is a lovely property in Gevrey, rejuvenated by Chantal Tortochot, who took over the estate from her father in the late 1990's. The family have been in Gevrey for many generations, but it was not until Chantal took over that the wines really began to show their potential. She is a skilled winemaker, producing wines that beautifully represent the terroir while still being accessible and fruit driven. The quality gets better with every vintage. Definitely a producer to start following. We are lucky enough to have allocations of the jewels in their range: Lavaux St-Jacques, Champeaux, and Chambertin itself.

42405	DOMAINE TORTOCHOT GEVREY 1ER CRU LAVAUX ST JACQUES PRE ARRIVAL OFFER Three types of 1er Cru may be found in Gevrey-Chambertin. The most famous are located in the vineyards of Côte St. Jacques. This slope, which extends from la Bossiere at the entrance of the valley in Champeaux, was given its name in the 19th century. Another string of climats is located beneath the Grands Crus. Finally, it is the best parcels of the alluvial cone at the far end of the valley that merit this name. Gevrey is one of the two most well-endowed vineyards in the Côte de Nuits. This climat of Lavaut St-Jacques is a plot of land which has been recognized for centuries, produces a wine of unique personality. The exposure is due south. The resulting cherry red wine is herbaceous and spicy, possessing a rich structure with elegant tannins. It offers the highest degree of finesse and elegance with good structure. Domaine Bonneau du Martray

Bonneau du Martray has been run since 1993 by Jean Charles de la Morinière, an architect who returned to the 11-hectare family property to manage it, fine-tuning the estate that his father originally brought back to life. The vineyard is on the side of the great Corton Hill, near Pernand, and while it is one continuous site, the parcels of grapes are treated separately in the winery to maintain their individual characteristics before combining as one great wine. Maturation is 33% in new oak for 12 months; the wine is blended and then assembled for a further six months of oak maturation.
